Overcoat Wisdom

Bad cutting spoils any cloth. Poor workmanship ruins the best cutting. Cheap trimmings-shoddy linings, cotton instead of silk thread, flimsy pockets, bad buttonholes-these soon make a "dud" of the whole thing.

When you go to a cheap tailor you choose the cloth not the other things. That's where you get left.

Might as well choose the whole garment—see what you're getting-and if you don't get what you think you get, here's your money back.

Howard Wilson Drowned While Res-

CRESTON, Ia., Jan. 9.-Howard Wilson,

the seventeen-year-old son of A. L. Wil-ing, while rescuing his companion, Miss Fay Rawls, from drowning. Wilson and Miss Rawls were skating on Summit lake, when the ice gave way, throwing them into the water. He clung to the ice with one other, and vainly endeavored to assist her upon the ice. Numerous attempts were made by companions to reach them, but without avail, as the ice broke and precipitated several young men into the water.

Wilson's strength was fast giving out, and he cried that he could not keep up much longer. Finally a rope of coats was made and thrown out. Wilson assisted Miss Rawls to take hold of it, and she was drawn out. Wilson's efforts to save Miss Rawls had exhausted his strength, and,

with one cry, he let loose and sank within

Advices by cable from Havana say: It develops that on Jan. 5 a Mexican named Domingo de la Carza, was assassinated at Guanabacoa. The Mexican consul, Senor Clemente Vasquez, the secretary of the governor, the Marquiz Palmerola, the Governor of Havana, the local judge and the military commander of that place, Fondeviela, have taken an active interest in the case and are doing everything possible to discover the assassin.

The Queen Regent has conferred the title of marquis on Rafael Montero and Prudencio Rabell, prominent autonomists, and has decorated the president of the autonomist party, Jose Maria Galvez, a wealthy merchant; Luis Corejudo, an ex-mayor, and Mayor Antonio Quesada with the great cross of the military order, and has decorated Rosendo Fernandez, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Antonio Blanco, a prominent merchant, with the great cross of the navy.

OPPOSED TO INTERVENTION La Lucha, commenting on Senor Moret's suggestion that diplomacy should assist the military forces in bringing about the pacification of the island, says that such a proposal means intervention on the part of the Washington authorities and that this would be unacceptable to all true Spaniards. Besides, the newspaper claims, the rebels would not accept any terms except absolute independence, which is what they are fighting for unless Senor Moret has succeeded in making some secret arrangements with the Cuban Junto at New York. The newspaper thinks things might be different. The same newspaper indulges in scathing remarks and bitterly attacks the government for granting a title to Prudencio Rabell, leader of the Reformist party. It is asserted that Rabell is unworthy of such an honor and that he cannot for one moment be compared with Montero, who was accorded a similar title because the latter is a man of strong personality and remarka-Following instructions received from their papers, Eduardo Pena and Domingo Blanco, correspondents of the Madrid Heraldo and Imparcial, will leave to-morrow for Porto Rico on the Spanish mail

The Official Gazette prints the following appointments: General Gonzales Munoz, chief of staff; General Lone, northern division Pinar del Rio; General Bosch, military commander of Havan and the suburbs. Copies of the Vos de Cuba received in Key West show that that newspaper recently published an extra advising all loyal Spaniards not to buy the Madrid papers. The claim is made that the attacks of Madrid papers on Captain General Weyler | Tried to Conceal His Crime by a Tale have a tendency to do him more harm than the attacks of The Patria and El Porvenir of New York. Several young men who recently joined the insurgents at Banzanillo report the existence of widespread disaffection among the followers of Rabi and Calixto Garcia. Advices have been received from Trinidad to the effect that several other young men who recently joined the insurgents at Sancti Spiritus report that a number of days since Maximo Gemez was encamped at a farm near La Campana. On the first of January, it is asserted, the insurgent leader Jose Miguel and Gomez passed by the Mapos plantation in company with several other Cuban insurgent commanders. Reports from Cieunfuegos state that on Jan. 5 they started in the direction of Esperanza and Banhcueli.

MANY HOMELESS FAMILIES. Over 500 families are reported to have been burned out of their houses owing to the recent orders to destroy the property and even the homes of pacificos. Many of these persons have been unable to save even their clothing. Mothers are carrying their babies in their arms, and are without food and resting places. Old gray-headed men and women are hardly able to move, owing to the prolonged period of suffering and many of them will probably starve to death.

The magnificent sugar estate of Santa Rosa, near Panchuelo, has been burned by the insurgents. For several days the horizon was brilliantly illuminated by the destroying fires. Many of the cane fields in this vicinity are still burning. The sugar plantations of Hormigueri Parque Alto, Tumba and Saco, all belonging to foreigners and located in the Cienfuegoes district, have received orders to suspend the grinding of cane. They hope to commence again on Jan. 12. The colony of El Tocino, near Esperanza, has also been burned by the insurgents and the destruction of property is reported as being very extensive. A large number of huts in the vicinity of San Felipe were burned on the night of Jan. 5, leaving many country families destitute and homeless. Reports received from San Antonio de los Banos, are to the effect that all last night and early this morning fires were illuminating the horizon in all directions. The destruction to property going on seems to be especially serious in the section of country between Gonea and Tumbadera. Remedios reports indicate that the insurgents have for a third time besieged the town of Mayajaba. This is the town which offered such heroic resistance to the Cuban forces. Only recently the garrison was increased there, and a large supply of ammunition was ordered placed in the local fortifications.

The prosecuting attorney then reviewed Someillan's family history. He said that Someillan was a native of Spain, and that since 1876 he had enrolled himself under the noble banner of the United States for the purpose of conspiring against the Spanish government. He repudiated the proofs and the documents drawn before an American notary public, claiming that they were without force and not binding in Spain. He called Key West a filibustering enrolling station, and claimed that many of the naturalized Cuban-Americans were spurious citizens, with foreign bogus naturalization papers. In conclusion, he urged that Someillan was entitled to no consideration. that he had committed one of the most serious offenses against the Spanish government, and he urged the tribunal to condemn the prisoner. The attorney for the defense will address the tribunal on Monday next.

Mr. Money made a flying trip to the island with the object of ascertaining for himself the condisince the day before Christmas and created himself from his friends and acquaintances at Havana for a few days. He has steadfastly refused to talk for publication about his trip, and to-night begged to be excused from seeing newspaper men.

TAX COLLECTOR SHORT.

About Robbers and Fire Bugs.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 9 .- Roscoe Conkling Findley, tax collector of Mina, Chautauqua county, confessed to-day that he had converted a considerable sum of tax money to his own use. A 1ew days ago Findlay was found unconscious in his barn vard bleeding from a scalp wound in his left temple. After he had revived he told how he had ben assaulted by robbers, who had taken from him about $600 that he had collected that day. The robbers had then he said, fired his barn with the intention of cremating him. The barn was burned. Officials of the town doubted the tale and caused Findlay's arrest, which resulted in the confession that he had fired his own at the meeting on the previous evening and property to cover up his defalcation. The town of Mina is amply secured.

SECOND CHILDHOOD. John Adams, 85 Years Old and Bald,

Getting New Teeth and Hair. KANKAKEE, Ill., Jan. 9 .- A remarkable case of second childhood exists in a little village in Kankakee county, where resides John Adams, who is eighty-five years old. Until recently he was bald, toothless and almost blind. He can now see as well- as ever, has cut several teeth and his hair has again grown out. The new hair is darkbrown; his eyes are clear, and at first glance he looks like a man of forty, but a closer view shows him to be much older. The brown hair and bright eyes seem to emphasize the wrinkles and the skin that looks like parchment. Mr. Adams has an idea that new skin will grow and the wrinkles disappear. He is in excellent health and spirits, and believes that he will live a long time yet. Ramsay's $200,000 Bond Missing. CARLYLE, Iil., Jan. 9.—The $200,000 bond given by Elijah P. Ramsay as administrator of his father's estate cannot be found. It has been recorded, but the original has either been misplaced or abstracted from the Ramsay papers. A careful search in County Clerk Lampen's office has proved fruitless. Probate Judge Jesse Jones has ordered young Ramsay to file a new bond for $220,000. The affair is causing no end of sensational talk among the depositors.

Senator Hansbrough Rengminated. BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. J.-At the Republican caucus to-night Senator Hansbrough was chosen as the Republican nomment is going on among the insurgents. A concentration of a large force of Cubans has evidently ben planned, and it is supposed that they are awaiting the arrival of Maximo Gomez at Remedios.

SENATOR PROCTOR, HANNA AND THE PRESIDENT-ELECT CONFER.

Appeal from Colored Men in Behalf of Their Brethren in the South-Senator Hansbrough Renominated.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. - The conference of gold-standard Democrats held at the Auditorium to-day declared for continued opposition to the tenets of the free-silver wing of the party and for the continuance of the party organization. Union with the Bryanites was declared to be out of the question, and a resolution offered by John P. Irish, of California, was adopted, calling on gold Democrats throughout the country to perfect their State and local organizations with the purpose of placing State and local tickets in the field at the next election.

About sixty men were present, representing the States of Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota, Kentucky and California. Franklin McVeagh called the meeting to order and named General S. B. Buckner, of Kentucky, as chairman. General Buckner, in taking the chair, said the meeting was called for the purpose of conferring with reference to the future course of the National Democratic party, which was the only Democratic party in existence. Speeches were made by men from every State represented showing that the party was everywhere in good condition. A motion urging the members of the party to perfect their organizations throughout the country was presented and adopted.

The question of a name for the party came up for consideration, and John P Irish said he would not be surprised if the party at its next convention assumed the name of the Democratic-Republican party, the original name of the Jeffersonian party.

PROCTOR AT CLEVELAND.

The Vermont Senator Confers with McKinley and Hanna.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.-Senator Redfield Proctor, of Vermont, was by long odds the most prominent arrival at the office of National Chairman Hanna to-day. He came in from the East on an early train, and was driven directly to Mr. Hanna's office, where he remained in consultation with the latter gentleman for some time. Mr. Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, a member of the Republican national executive committee, also arrived during the morning and went to the home of Hon. Myron T. Herrick, where Major and Mrs. McKinley are guests, to call upon the President-elect. At noon Major McKinley and Mr. Dawes were driven to the Perry-Payne building, when Senetor Proctor and Chairman Hanna also entered the carriage, which was then driven to the Union Club. After luncheon had been served a long conference took place between the Presidentelect, Senator Proctor and Chairman Hanna. It was stated that the mission of Senator Proctor to Cleveland at this time was to consult with the President-elect in regard to legislation, and possibly also as to the interest of New England in the personnel of the Cabinet of the incoming administration. The visit of Senator Proctor has, of course, given rise to much speculation in political circles, it being said in some quarters that the senator is himself a Cabinet aspirant, but it is believed by those who stand close to the Presidentelect that there is practically no likelihood of Mr. Proctor becoming a member of Mr. McKinley's official household.

A conference of great importance to the colored people of the United States and which will undoubtedly attract national atresentatives of the colored people and President-elect McKinley, at the home of Colonel Myron T. Herrick. The conference was in pursuance of action taken at a large and enthusiastic assemblage of colored Republicans, held here Friday evening, under the auspices of the Western Reserve Republican Club. The meeting of the club was marked by great enthusiasm for the principles of the Republican party and the ncoming national administration. It was addressed by Mayor McKisson, Hon. W. R. Coates, Hon. John P. Green, a well-known local attorney, and others. At the conclusion of the speech-making a resolution was presented providing for the appointment of a committee of three to wait on Presidentelect McKinley to urge upon him the importance to express in his inaugural address or message to Congress disapproval of the lynchings and outrages perpetrated on colored men in the South. The resolution was unanimously adopted and a committee appointed. The committee was cordially received by the President-elect. After the matter had been carefully discussed Major McKinley said that he was very glad the gentlemen had called and that he believed their request to be proper one for consideration. He expressed his pleasure at the enthusiasm manifested concluded his remarks by assuring the committee that he would remember the subject of the conference in his official statements. The committee was gratified with the result of the visit and unanimous in the belief that Major McKinley was in hearty sympothy with the movement which they had undertaken. In conversation with a reporter to-day Major McKinley expressed himself as hav ing greatly enjoyed his visit to Cleveland that he had been greatly benefited by the much-needed rest. The appearance of the President-elect would certainly bear the statement out as he presents a perfect picture of robust health. Senator Proctor took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. McKinley and Mr. and Mrs. Herrick at the home of the latter, and this evening was spent by the President-elect and the senator in conference.

OREGON SENATORSHIP. Corbett, Simon and Dolph Not Averse

The first ballot for United | utterly destitute. States senator will be taken on the 19th inst., and there is much anxiety as to who will be chosen. Senator Mitchell is an avowed candidate, but the opinion is growing that there are many dark horses. The only other candidate permitting the unrestricted use of his name is ex-Senator Corbett, who is seventy years old. Another who is believed to be yearning for Mitchell's mantle is Joseph Simon. It is conceded that Simon will be elected president of the Senate, and, it is claimed, will be ready to announce his candidacy for the United States senatorship if a chance of success becomes clear. Then there is ex-Senator who was defeated two years ago, assuring his re-election when the vote is when McBride was elected. Dolph was de- Aymes, son of a wealthy cotton factor of Senator Perkins's Opponents.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The fight for United States senator to succeed George C. Perkins has been transferred from Sacramento to this city. The opposition to Senator Perkins was busy to-day endeavoring to select an available man on whom to concentrate its strength. Several names have been repeatedly mentioned in this connection, the most prominent being Irving M. Scott and ex-United States Senator Charles N. Felton. Neither of these gentlemen has yet given a definite consent, but it is considered certain that some dark horse will be found and nominated in the Assembly next Tuesday. Samuel M. Shortridge has been an avowed candidate for some weeks, but is not considered formidable. James A. Waymire's name will not likely be presented, unless there should be no choice on the first or second ballot.

Governor Meintyre's Message. DENVER, Col., Jan. 9.-Governor McIntyre's biennial message to the Legislature of Colorado was read in joint session this afternoon. The Governor sets forth in comprehensive way the condition of the State affairs, but makes no radical recommendations. He explains that the necessity of keeping troops in Leadville ever since Sept. 22 last was due to the failure of the sheriff to attempt to enforce the laws. The Governor recommends the establishment of a board of conciliation and mediation for the purpose of preventing strikes when possible. He recommends the Legislature to memorialize Congress to establish a government department of mines, with a commissioner who shall be a member of the Cabinet of the President.

A Preacher Populist Rewarded.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 9 .- In the distribution of offices by the Senate caucus the position of chaplain fell to the priests. They decided on T. H. Malone, editor of the Colorado Catholic. Father Malone declined in favor of the Rev. Myron W. Reed, of the Broadway Temple Congregational Church. This is the first time in the history of the State that a Catholic priest has had an opportunity to become chaplain either House. Father Malone and Mr. Reed are leaders of the committee which succeeded in getting the Denver City Council to promote works of improvements for the idle laborers of Denver.

OUTRAGE ON JAPANESE.

Six Coolies Hanged Till Nearly Dead by Fifteen Californians.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 9 .- A crusade against coolie labor has been inaugurated at Orangevale, a citrus colony in the southeastern part of this county. C. G. Roos. an orchardist, employed six Japanese on his place, and last night fifteen citizens with gunny sacks over their heads seized the Japanese, placed a rope around neck of each and took them to a big oak tree. There they were strung up and left hanging until life was almost extinct. The Japanese were then lowered, and when they revived the hanging process was repeated several times. The Japanese were ther forced to march out of the settlement and warned never to return on penalty of being hanged until dead. Roos the employer, remonstrated at the outrage, and then a rope was thrown about his neck with a threat to hang him if he interfered or employed any but white labor on his ranch

TWO KILLED AND TWO HURT. Railway Employes Mangled in a Collision Between Freight Trains.

Over Two Hundred Derelict Statesmen Made Happy with the Assistance

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- One of the leading and most active lawyers of the Union Pacific reorganization committee, which represents the first-mortgage bondholders and a large majority of the stock, is Winslow S. Pierce, a former resident of Indianapolis. On his removel to New York young Pierce was fortunate enough to become associated with Judge Dillon, the great corporation lawyer, who was closely identified with Jay Gould, and who still directs the legal end of the Gould interests, and he has gone right to the front. Although less than forty years old, Winslow Pierce now ranks as one of the best corporation lawyers in New York. He has a special gift for combination, the quality most highly prized by

Gould, and which seems to be recognized by his successors. Ill feeling is cropping out again between the Huntington interests and the Union Pacific interests. Huntington's close friends accuse the Union Pacific people of secretly conspiring to defeat the funding bill, and they do not deny the accusations very vigorously. The inside facts about the plans for the future of the Pacific systems are gradually coming out. The Union Pacific representatives claim that their road has been ruined by Huntington, who has diverted a great mass of traffic belonging to the Union Pacific over his individual Southern Pacific route. His only anxiety to retain control of the Central Pacific from Ogden west is to be in a position to continue to starve the Union Pacific and fatten his own and more important roads south. If the property should be sold under foreclosure the Vanderbilts would probably outbid him, or at least compel him to pay a high price for what he now controls between Ogden and San Francisco. If the Vanderbilts should succeed in getting possession of a through line to the Pacific, freight and passenger rates between the oceans would be cut in half. Knowledge of this fact is at the bottom of the opposition of California to Huntington's funding scheme and of the alleged bad faith of the Union Pacific inter-

FUNDING BILL DEBATE.

Close of the Discussion in the House -Vote to Be Taken Monday. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.- The debate in the House of Representatives on the Pacific Railroad funding bill came to a close at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and the final vote on the bill and all amendments and substitutes will be taken Monday noon on the assembling of the House. The debate to-day was of that fragmentary character ncident to a five-minute debate, and was not productive of any features new or strong. But one vote was taken, and that on an amendment of comparatively minor importance by Mr. Parker, of New Jersey, enlarging the description of the assets covered by the government lien and requiring the assent of the secretary of the treasury to any sales made by the roads under the terms of the bill. Mr. Powers resisted the amendment, but it was passed by a decisive majority. During the day Mr. North-

A preliminary flurry occurred over a motion by Mr. Henderson to reconsider the resolution adopted at the night session of the House last night directing the sergeantat-arms to arrest absent members and bring them to the bar of the House on Tuesday next. It occasioned a sharp parliamentary struggle, Mr. Baker making the point that Mr. Henderson was not present at the night session and had no right to move to reconsider.

Mr. Thomas, who secured the adoption of the resolution for the arrest of absent members, defended the justice of it, pointing out that absenteeism at the Friday night session, when private pension bills are considered, practically brought pension legislation to a standstill. There was much confusion as Mr. Thomas sought to read the names of all members absent last night. He said he wanted the country to know just who were responsible for this delay of legislation. After many objections had been made, the speaker ruled that the names could be read as part of Mr. Thomas's remarks, and they were accordingly read from the desk amid loud murmurs of disapproval. It disclosed 238 absent from the night session and now subject to arrest by the sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Grosvenor created a laugh by asking if the sergeant-at-arms was to furnish transportation, lodging and food for his pris-

Mr. Meredith interposed the statement: "I suggest that the gentleman (Thomas) have his petition read to be commissioner of pensions under the next administration." There is no such petition, and the gentleman (Mr. Meredith knows it," returned Mr. Thomas, warmly, "I have heard it was in existence," persisted Mr. Meridith.

VICTORY FOR ABSENTEES. The motion to reconsider was adopted-180 to 109. Mr. Thomas sought to get a record vote, but failed. The call for a yea and nay vote was defeated-16 to 165. "Is the speaker counting members now under arrest" interposed Mr. Thomas, as "The speaker is not aware that any member of the House is under arrest," responded Mr. Reed, sharply. "No arrests have been made under the order." added Mr. Henderson. "Centainly the sergeant-at-arms made arrests last night, insisted Mr. Thomas, and more were made to-day. The speaker said he had no information of such arrests. Thereupon, without further division, all proceedings under the order for arrest were suspended. With this lively episode out of the way the Pacific Railroad funding bill was taken up under the five-minute rule. Mr. Bowers, Rep., opened the opposition in an onslaught on the management of the Pacific roads and the bill. He characterized most tyrannous monoply that had ever been organized. It was a part of an in-the meausure as a plan to continue the famous and fraudulent transaction; an attempt to prolong the grip of the "Anafeated after receiving the Republican cau-cus nomination, when the Legislature was Republican, as it is now, which left a breach in the party that has not been closed.
